This Bible, consisting of the Old Testament translated from the Hebrew into Spanish, and known as the Bible of the House of Alba, is now published for the first time. The work of translation was undertaken in 1422 at the request of Don Luis Guzman, Lord of Algaba and Grand Master of the Military Order of Calatrava, by the learned Rabbi Moses Arragel of Guadalfajara. For many years the Manuscript was in the keeping of the Inquisition, who in 1620 presented it to that powerful Minister of Philip IV, the Conde Duque de Olivares, as a token of gratitude for the favours they had received from his father, the Spanish Ambassador in Rome. Finally, it came into the possession of the Family of Alba in 1688.

We are sole agents for the sale of the Duke of Alba's Bible (outside Spain).

With hundreds of reproductions of woodcut books, fine bindings, etc.

2 vols., 4to, half morocco. Barcelona, 1920.

£5 5s

This is a handsome publication, profusely illustrated, and consisting of a comprehensive and scholarly study of the language and literature of Catalonia, written in the Catalan language, and edited by an eminent bibliophile.

The subjects are dealt with in attractive and concise chapters, from which the reader may extract the maximum of information on the earliest to the most up-to-date Catalan literature, characteristic typography of the various periods, the various schools of poetry and other literary media, information on manuscripts, woodcuts, bindings, modern book illustration, institutions connected with Catalan literature, Catalan littérateurs, and the bibliography of the greatest Catalan authors. There is a refreshing absence of pedantry in this highly informative text, and it is enriched by some hundreds of woodcut and wooden illustrations from books, facsimiles of manuscripts, full-page reproductions of handsome bindings in sepia and in colour, portraits, printers' devices, watermarks, type specimens, etc., as well as liberal extracts from rare texts.

There are over three hundred pages in each volume, with numbered double columns on each page, and valuable indices. The frontispiece of the first volume is a coloured reproduction from a mediaeval miniature; the frontispiece of the second being a reproduction in sepia of Mariano Fortuny's painting Els Bibliòfils.

and Lyons presses. The provincial French printers, so little known to bibliographers, are very fully represented, such as Limoges, Poitiers, Toulouse, etc.

A great many of the reproductions are from unique books in small French libraries, and would be unobtainable in any other form.

It is also a valuable contribution to the history of engraving.

No library, no museum, no collector of incunabula, can afford to be without it.

Only two hundred copies have been printed, and only a few copies are still available.

With 152 magnificent facsimile plates, printed in red and black, of fine books in Gothic letter from presses of fifteenth century Germany, German-Switzerland and Austria-Hungary.

Folio, cloth. London, 1928.

£12 12s

One of 398 copies only, with English text.

The author's previous works on ancient and modern printing in the roman letter are written from what is a comparatively fresh point of view—that of the collector interested rather in the beauty than in the archaeology of books. His studies therefore have drawn attention to many printers whose merits had not hitherto been recognized by those collectors whose appreciation of books is based upon historical considerations. There are many books, rare, and thus valuable enough as examples of this or that printer's development or as exhibiting various bibliographical or typographical minutiae, but which are neither composed in a satisfactory type nor agreeably set on the page.

And although an undeniable interest, not to say fascination, attaches to nearly every member of that class of books known as incunabula, i.e., books published during the fifteenth century, it cannot be gainsaid that very many of the productions of this period are more conspicuous for their archaeological than for their aesthetic interest. A volume of first-class facsimiles selected in accordance with a high typographical standard is not available, and we feel that many collectors and amateurs of books of the fifteenth century will be grateful for Mr. Morison's new volume. Limiting himself to the consideration of the German books printed in that century, the author has selected from the uniquely rich and representative British Museum collection, one hundred and fifty-two of the best examples of Gothic composition. These plates exhibit only the finest specimens of that classic Black Letter, unrivalled in its stateliness, with which printing made its debut and which was so soon to fall into decline; but there is also included a fine series of examples of transitional Gothic founts. Thus, in addition to pages from the books of Fust and Schoeffer, Koberger, Gunther Zainer and Ratdolt, there are reproduced a number of the less familiar pages by Michael Wenssler of Basel, Hoeltzel of Nuremberg, Schonsperger of Augsburg, Johann Zainer of Ulm, Kollicker of Basel, and others. No fewer than half the plates are in two colours, and while the volume deals only with typography not a few of the pages embody examples of contemporary wood-cut illustration. The facsimiles, many of which bear decorative initials, are reproduced in the exact size and with the exact margins of the originals. A descriptive catalogue precedes the plates. The volume therefore presents a typographical pageant of unrivalled splendour, and cannot fail to be of considerable interest to artists and typographers, as well as to collectors, amateurs and others.

No pains have been spared to secure absolutely perfect reproduction of the magnificent examples which Mr. Morison has chosen. The photography and printing of the plates has been done by Messrs. Charles Whittingham and Griggs, of London. The entire work was carried out under the author's supervision.

With a view to the preservation of the highest possible standard of accuracy in reproduction, the edition has been limited to a small number.

It is hoped that this volume on German Gothic Incunabula in the British Museum Collection may be followed by a set of volumes surveying the incunabula of the several other countries represented in the same superb collection; and that the series will be completed with a volume of text (itself liberally illustrated with plates and diagrams) devoted to a detailed study of the Black Letter from its early fine manuscript origins to the late debased Civilité of the seventeenth century.

An exhaustive Bibliography of Spanish and Latin-American Works, since the invention of printing until the present day, with the market value of each work.

This work aims at facilitating the researches of the Bibliophile, the Librarian, and the professional Bookseller, and is the essence of sixteen years of patient study and experience, presented concisely in a simple and eminently useful manner.
The author claims that it is an Inventory of Hispanic-American Literature. "For example, the catalogues of Salva and Ticknor, the library of Gallardo, and the best-known works of this kind, only give an account of the works which they possess or have seen; but no other publication than this exists in which we can see, arranged in chronological order, all the editions of our most celebrated writers."

- 1235 Mudge (Lt. Robt., R.N.). Awful Destruction of the Cape of Good Hope Emigrant Ship, giving an account of the names of the persons saved, amounting to 49; the remainder of the crew and passengers, amounting to 112, belonging to Glasgow, were either Burnt or Drowned.

Broadside, 1 page, folio.

Carse, Printer, Trongate (Glasgow, late 1820).

£2 2s

A very scarce broadside, possibly unique, giving an account of the loss by fire of the "Abeona," emigrant transport, on Nov. 25, 1820. The "Abeona" was one of the first emigrant ships to sail for the Cape of Good hope. When near the Equator she was set on fire by the accidental upsetting of a candle by the first mate, a Mr. Duff, who refused to leave the vessel and perished with her. The officer in charge, Lt. Robert Mudge, was appointed agent of Transports afloat on 17 Aug. 1820; he was saved and returned to Greenock in the "Royal Charlotte." This account was probably based on his report of the disaster.

Large Paper, Printed on Hand-made Paper (limited to 200 numbered copies).

4to, original white binding. London, The Studio, 1923. £5 5s

In this book are brought together a series of illustrations covering all the varied aspects of Rowlandson's genius; not only his more familiar powers as a broad humourist, but also his wide and keen interest in life and character of every class, his eye for incident, his appreciation of fair forms and country scenes, and, above all, his outstanding ability as a draughtsman. The collection should be invaluable alike to the student of history and manners and to the lover of art.

- 1439 ROXBURGHE CLUB. Ballads and Broad-sides chiefly of the Elizabethan Period and Printed in Black-Letter: Most of which were formerly in the Heber Collection, and are now in the Library at Britwell Court, Buckinghamshire. Edited with Notes and an Introduction by Herbert L. Collmann.

Folio, original half morocco.

Oxford, The Roxburghe Club, 1912.

£20

Only a very few copies privately printed for presentation to the members of the Roxburghe Club.

The Britwell Broad-sides, from which this collection was published, are 87 in number, and in almost all cases the Ballads are unique. Its range over the social and political features of the earlier years of the reign of Queen Elizabeth is comprehensive, and many of the verses throw an interesting light on some of the leading events of the period. The epitaphs and mournful ditties written for the illustrious dead, with the admonitions and confessions of others less enviable in their ends, form a third of the entire collection. The rest of the ballads deal chiefly with moral and religious subjects, and with historical episodes, among which the Catholic Rising in the North figures conspicuously; others with monstrous birds and fishes; while a few are of the narrative order.

THE HALLIWELL SHAKESPEARE.

- 1523 Works Complete. The Text formed from a new collation of the Early Editions, to which are added all the Original Novels and Tales on which the Plays are founded, copious Archaeological Annotations on each Play, an Essay on the Formation of the Text, and a Life of the Poet, by James Orchard Halliwell.

Beautifully printed on large and thick paper, and illustrated with 142 plates, comprising facsimiles of portions of rare editions of the plays, portraits, views, etc., and a great number of engravings in the text by Fairholt.

16 vols., thick royal folio, original half morocco, uncut.

London, 1853-65.

£82

Mr. Halliwell-Phillipp's object was to produce an edition of the works of Shakespeare with a collection of facts and documents respecting their literary history, by annotations on their obsolete phraseology and obscure allusions, elucidated by archaeological engravings and extracts from contemporary works adopted, or, alluded to by the great dramatist.

Only 150 copies of this magnificent and valuable edition were printed, and after they were complete the whole of the engravings were destroyed. It is rarely now that a copy is offered for sale, nearly all those which have occurred of late years having been bought for Public Institutions at home and abroad, and the chances are very much against any of these coming into the market again.

- 1524 Plays and Poems. With the purest text, and the briefest Notes, by J. Payne Collier.

8 vols., square 8vo, full morocco gilt, contents lettered, uncut, t. e. g.

London, Privately Printed for Subscribers, 1878.

£21

This Privately Issued Edition by J. Payne Collier was limited to 58 copies.

- 1525 Works. New Variorum Edition. Edited by Horace Howard Furness. Containing a Collation of the Ancient Copies, and of the best Modern Critical Editions, Notes, and Appendix to each Play.

19 vols., royal 8vo, original cloth. London, 1918.

£23 15s

Supersedes all previous versions in its collation of varying texts, in fulness and richness of references, and in copiousness of extracts from the vast mass of books illustrating the poet. No student would willingly forego a set which has such claims upon him as this.

- 1526 Sonnets and Poems.

Portrait in colours of the Earl of Southampton.

Title-page in red and black within woodcut border, and numerous initial letters printed in red.

A Special Hand-made Paper Edition.

8vo, original vellum binding. London, 1903.

"Beautiful Croucher under old Prospero's power!
 Ever didst thou hold in sight that jubilee day,
 Whose gates should free thee into many a bower,
 Where boughs drop blossoms, and where wild bees stray;
 The alacrity with which thou didst obey
 Sprang from this very expectancy; and how well,
 Every expression of thy body did display
 This one vivid motive, might peradventure tell,
 Thy poet, the Ariel's God, the God of Prospero's cell." Etc.

"I hope you will in return accept my humble offering, and that you will sometimes cast your eye over the two little volumes which I send with this note. They contain twelve of the Shakespearean Plays which I produced at the Princess's, but of course in an abridged form for the purpose of Stage representation."

"They may perhaps remind you of the absent wanderer who will be crawling on the earth's surface fifteen thousand miles away with his feet towards yours, and his head towards the south pole."

"God grant that we may return to find you and yours as you now are in the full enjoyment of health—happiness and prosperity."

"Be assured that whether I am at the top or bottom of this globe I shall

- 1597 Wright (William Horace). His Manuscript Commonplace Book. Poetical and Prose Extracts, neatly written on upwards of 400 pages.

Small 8vo, contemporary crimson morocco. Circa 1810. £10 10s

An interesting Commonplace Book, containing many Shakespearean references, besides numerous anecdotes of contemporary people.

"When Mr. Garrick paid a visit to Foote, he was surprised to see a bust of himself placed on his Bureau."

"Garrick said, when Johnson writes tragedy, declamation roars, and passion sleeps; when Shakespeare wrote, he dipped his pen in his heart."

"Shakespeare's beauties are his own, and will be ever ranked in first of our English poets, and has had the felicity of having his faults admired for the sake of his Beauties."

"Though I look old, yet I am strong and lusty;
For in my youth, I never did apply
Hot and rebellious liquors to my blood;
Nor did I with bashful woo
The means of weakness and debility.
Therefore, my age is like a lusty winter,
Frosty, yet kindly.—Shakespeare."

" For pleasure and revenge
Have ears more deaf than adders, to the voice
Of any true decision.—Troilus & Cressida. Act 2."

" No, tis slander;
Whose edge is sharper than the sword, and whose tongue
Out venoms all the worms of Nile, whose breath
Rides on the posting winds, and doth belie
All corners of the world, Kings, queens and states,
Maids, matrons; nay, the secrets of the grave
This viprous slander enters.—

Shakespr., Troilus & Cressida."

1760 Liber Studiorum.

The Complete Set of 71 engravings of Architectural, Pastoral, Marine, Mountainous, and Historical Subjects. Designed and etched by J. M. W. Turner, and engraved in mezzotint under his personal supervision by Lewis, Charles Turner, Wm. Say, Lupton, and S. W. Reynolds. All fine impressions.

Oblong folio, full morocco gilt, g. e. 1807-19.

£65

The Liber Studiorum was designed and carried out by Turner in the early-middle period of his career, its publication ranging from 1807, when he was thirty-two, to 1819, when he was forty-four—these twelve years coinciding pretty nearly with what is generally known as his "second manner" in Art.

In the year of its inception, Turner's position as the first English landscape-painter of his day was assured, and this series of plates Turner regarded as his magnum opum.

The Liber Studiorum of Turner was designed from the first as a series, not of sketches, but of fully-finished pictures, which were to illustrate his whole range of powers, and to embrace every kind of subject of which he considered himself master. Projected therefore with this aim, the groundwork of every plate was the work of his own hand, and each after-stage entrusted to the best engravers of his day over whom he kept strictest supervision. It is not surprising that the Liber Veritatis was utterly distanced, and that the Liber Studiorum, produced during twelve years of Turner's life in which many of his strongest, although not his most imaginative, pictures appeared, came forth a truly monumental work, taking rank with the highest expressions of his genius.

1761 Liber Studiorum. Set of 71 plates of Architectural, Pastoral, Marine, Mountainous, and Historical Subjects, reproduced from the original Etchings.

3 vols., folio, original cloth. London, 1875.
